about pets, smoking habits, and any additional occupants to ensure compatibility with your property.

How can I verify a tenant's income and employment?

Request recent pay stubs, employment verification letters, or contact their employer directly. For self-employed tenants, review tax returns or bank statements to confirm income stability.

What are some red flags to watch for during tenant screening?

Red flags include inconsistent rental histories, frequent moves, poor credit scores, criminal records, or reluctance to provide references. These may indicate potential issues with reliability or responsibility.

How can I protect myself legally when selecting tenants?

Use a written application form, follow fair housing laws, conduct thorough background checks, and have a clear, written lease agreement. Document all interactions and screening processes for legal protection.

Research local market rates, consider property features, and compare similar rentals in your area. Setting a competitive yet fair price attracts quality tenants and reduces vacancy periods.
